

Megan Scott and John Becker recently spent 10 years revising John's family's cookbook, the Joy of Cooking, for its 9th edition, which came out in 2019. When Megan isn't working on Joy, she's at her day job as Culinary Director at Heart Creative. John grew up in Portland, and Megan hails from North Carolina, but both are completely in love with the Portland Farmers Market and base most of their meals on whatever is in season. When they're not cooking, Megan and John can be found snuggling with their 2 cats, Loki and Kishu, gardening in their backyard in outer SE Portland, or hiking at Powell Butte.
